MP, MUDA officials inspect rain-affected areas

Mysuru, May 18 (RK&DM)-A day after Bogadi Lake (Mariyappanakere) overflowed and a road built over a storm water drain was washed away along with the culvert (minor bridge) near Nagalingeshwara Temple in Bogadi due to incessant rains, the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) officials went on an inspection-spree in rain-hit areas.

Led by its Chairman H.V. Rajeev, the officials visited CFTRI Layout, Ashraya Layout, Ananda Nagar, Sharadadevi Nagar, Bogadi and the Lingambudhi Lake on the outskirts of the city this morning and carried out an inspection on the measures to be taken for preventing flooding of residential areas.

The officials inspected the storm water drain link through which water flows from Bogadi Lake to the vast Lingambudhi Lake whenever it rains heavily.

MUDA Chairman Rajeev told Star of Mysore that the MUDA is preparing a DPR (Detailed Project Report) for finding a permanent solution to the problem of rain water gushing into low-lying areas and entering households in surrounding localities.

Pointing out that the DPR will include plans on proper channeling of excess water, he said that the storm water drains and outlets will be so designed that storm water that enters the Lake from different localities, will be appropriately diverted without any flooding or damages in surrounding areas.

Noting that at the same time, water conservation will also be taken into consideration, Rajeev said that the plan will cover all aspects — prevention of layouts from getting flooded, lakes getting overflowed or breached and roads being washed away.

Rajeev also held discussions with DCF Kamala Karikalan, who too visited the spot, on the Social Forestry initiatives that can be implemented to save overflowing or breaching of lakes and flooding of residential areas.

MP joins inspection

Later in the noon, Mysuru-Kodagu MP Pratap Simha too joined the MUDA officials in the inspection of rain-hit areas.

They also visited the Lingambudhi Lake and held discussions over a comprehensive action plan for finding a long lasting solution to flooding issues during rainy season. MUDA Commissioner G.T. Dineshkumar, Superintending Engineer Shankar, Executive Engineer Sunil and others were present.

BSNL employees demand level playing field in telecom services

Mysuru, May 18 (PM&DM)- Urging the Government for giving the State-run BSNL a free hand in providing telecom services, the National Federation of Telecom Employees General Secretary Chandreshwar Singh said that the Government must end discrimination and ensure a level playing field for providing telecom services.

He was addressing the 4th Convention of the Federation's Karnataka Circle at the Regional Telecom Training Centre (RTTC) in T.K. Layout here on Sunday.

Maintaining that there is a high level of discrimination concerning 5G services, Chandreshwar Singh observed that the BSNL can give more efficient service to customers if the Government also extends the support to BSNL as well.

Contending that the Government delayed its support when mobile service was introduced, he expressed disappointment that the Government cancelled the tender which had mandated use of only domestic equipment and accessories in providing 4G services. He further said that it was not correct on the part of the Government to allow private telecom companies for using China-made equipment.

BSNL Karnataka Circle General Manager Ashok Kumar Agarwal said that the BSNL would launch 5G service by December. Officers and other personnel are committed to ensure the success of 5G by working with unity, he added.

BSNL Karnataka Circle Chief Finance Officer Marina George, Federation's National President Islam Ahmed, Karnataka Circle Secretary K.S. Sheshadri, District Secretary Nagendra, All India BSNL Officers Association office-bearer R. Ganesh and others were present.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

After reducing the duration between second dose and the booster shot to 3 months for international travellers, Government of India must reduce the general 9-month gap between second dose and boosters and ramp up messaging on importance of precaution doses. Other countries with advanced vaccination programmes administer boosters at much shorter durations. The US CDC prescribes a first booster for all adults five months after the primary series and a second booster for those over 50 or those who are immunocompromised, four months after the first booster. The UK encourages the first booster three months after the second dose.

Meanwhile, the Biden administration is preparing for 100 million COVID infections later this year. While India's COVID trajectory has diverged from other nations in the months after the third wave in January, there's no room for complacency. Data from the 2015-16 Demographic and Health Survey of households indicates 42% of diabetes and 56% of hypertension patients are unaware of their condition. These comorbidities are a key reason to encourage all adults to take boosters.

Vaccine supplies are plentiful now. Over 17.5 crore doses are lying unutilised. The low offtake of boosters isn't surprising: Many people are assuming without evidence that the COVID threat has passed. Nearly 6 crore adults between 18 and 59 are eligible for boosters, but just over 12.5 lakh have taken the jab. The US prognosis of another tidal wave of infections must prod India also to improve its booster dose programme. — In The Times of India

Mom criticised for covering son with tattoos

Florida: A young Florida fashion designer and tattoo-loving mother-of-one has been getting a lot of criticism online for covering her one-year-old son in hyperrealistic temporary tattoos.

29-year-old Shamekia Morris, a fashion designer from West Palm Beach, started putting temporary tattoos on her son Treylin when he was only six months old and it has since become a habit that she shares with thousands of fans on social media.

Although the effect is admittedly quite striking, not everyone is a fan of Shamekia's idea, with some going as far as calling her irresponsible or a bad mother. Still, the mother-of-one, who herself is covered in tattoos, said that she won't let the criticism stop her from living a lifestyle that both she and her son enjoy.

This Road near Yelwal needs immediate repairs

Sir,

The 1.5 kms stretch that connects to NJ Hospital in Yelwal (State Highway 88 that connects Bantwal from Mysuru) is in a very bad shape (filled with potholes). Since 2020, none of the authorities concerned have inspected the same and provided any assurance to make the road fit to travel.

As many people from nearby villages such as Nagawala, Bommenahalli etc., make frequent visits to the NJ Hospital, it becomes absolutely necessary to repair the road urgently to save patients and general public to travel smoothly on this stretch. Furthermore, this road also connects Acharya Vidya Kula (AVK) school wherein many students and their parents travel frequently as well. Before the rainy season intensifies, I request the authorities to repair this road and make it motorable.

MP Sreenivasa Prasad seeks land

for Buddha Study Centre building in Mysore Varsity

Mysuru, May 18 (PM&DM)- Chamarajanagar MP V. Sreenivasa Prasad has urged University of Mysore (UoM) to allocate an exclusive site for the construction of Buddha Study Centre building in Manasagangothri campus.

He was speaking after inaugurating a special lecture on "The importance of Buddha's teachings to contemporary world" organised by UoM's Dr. B.R. Ambedkar Research and Extension Centre as part of Buddha Poornima at its Vishwajnani auditorium in Manasagangothri campus here on Monday.

Pointing out that there are Study Centres in the name of Mahatma Gandhi, Basaveshwara, Mahaveer Jain and Kuvempu, Prasad said that the current Dr. Ambedkar Research Centre came up with MP funds on the site provided by UoM. Likewise, the University should earmark a site for Buddha Centre and the funds for its establishment will be sourced from elsewhere, he said.

Maintaining that a casteless India existed only during the time of Gautama Buddha, Sreenivasa Prasad opined that Buddha is not a 'Mokshadaata' but a 'Maargadaata.'

Contending that Buddhism came into existence once again in India only through Dr. Baba Saheb Ambedkar after the eras of Emperors Ashoka and Harshavardhana, the MP said that this was the reason why Buddha and Ambedkar are compared on similar terms. Buddha is not only the leading light of Asia but of the entire world as well, he added.

Buddha statue at Manasagangothri campus.

Replying to the MP's demand, UoM Vice-Chancellor Prof. G. Hemantha Kumar said that the University has started separate courses in Buddha Study Centre from the current year, for which several students have enrolled.

Noting that lectures are being organised on every Friday, he said that the Centre should work towards gaining international fame, for which the University will provide necessary support, including allotment of land for the Centre in the University campus.

Vishwa Maitri Buddha Vihara's Dr. Kalyanasiri Bhanteji too spoke on the occasion.

Dr. B.R. Ambedkar Research and Extension Centre Director Dr. S. Narendrakumar, Samaanate-Swabhimaana-Swavalambane Prathishtana President Prof. C. Basavaraju, Prof. N.M. Talwar and others were present.

V.V. Market Tenants Association blames negligence of MCC for sorry state of heritage structures

Mysuru, May 18 (DM)- The city's Vani Vilas Market Tenants Association has blamed the negligence of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) authorities for the sorry state of heritage structures such as Devaraja Market, Vani Vilas Market and Mandi Market which come under the control of the MCC.

In a press release, Association Secretary Shivakumar said that the markets were built by the erstwhile Mysore Maharaja Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar decades ago for the benefit of public. Pointing out that the market buildings are listed as heritage structures and have stood the test of times for nearly a century, he said that these heritage structures, which are unique in architectural character and style, are regarded as a pride of Mysuru.

Noting that all the three Market buildings are maintained by the MCC which began functioning under its current name 39 years ago, Shivakumar alleged that the MCC, which collects rent from tenants, was doing little for regular and proper maintenance of the buildings.

Accusing the MCC of flouting all Government rules and norms in respect of maintenance of the market buildings and also non-compliance of other Government guidelines, he maintained that failure to carry out regular maintenance works such as white washing, chemical coating, execution of other minor repair and related conservation works, had resulted in these structures turning dilapidated with the passage of time.

Stressing on the need for the MCC to properly maintain and conserve all buildings that come under its control, he said that all elected representatives, irrespective of their party affiliations, should come forward for saving these structures from deteriorating further.

Contending that these structures built by the erstwhile Mysore rulers are not just Government buildings, but a prized possession of the people of the State, Shivakumar wanted the Government to form a Committee for overseeing conservation of the Market buildings.

Reiterating the need for the constitution of an independent Committee for ensuring proper maintenance of all heritage structures in the city including the three market buildings, he urged the Government to appoint members to the Committee who have a flair for heritage conservation and technical expertise.

Seeking to carry out urgent repair works, Shivakumar said that the Government and the Archaeology Department should waste no time anymore and initiate measures for carrying out urgent repair and restoration works without disturbing the heritage characteristics and architectural splendour of the market buildings.

Mysuru, May 18 (MTY&KS)- Urging for the release of 11th Panchen Lama, who is in Chinese custody, Tibetans staged a protest near the Office of the Deputy Commissioner in city yesterday.

Urging for his release, the Tibetans submitted a memorandum urging the memorandum be directed to the Prime Minister.

Seeking regularisation of jobs, Pourakarmikas to stage State-wide protest tomorrow

"Apart from the salary being paid by the Government, which was earlier given by the Contractor, there are no other benefits. This is something like, outsource had turned into in-source," he said.

Stating that a deadline of one month is given to the Government to fulfil the demands, Narayan said that Vidhana Soudha Chalo agitation will be held if the Government fails to take up the issue besides stating that there were 2005 such employees in Mysuru, who should be made permanent.

PSI exam scam

Aggrieved candidates appeal former CM to take up their cause

Mysuru, May 18 (GA&DM)- Upset over the Government's decision to conduct a re-exam for recruitment for PSIs (Police Sub-Inspectors) in the wake of unearthing of a scam in the appointment of 545 PSIs, the aggrieved candidates met former CM H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK), who was in the city yesterday and urged him to press the Government to withdraw the re-exam announcement.

The aggrieved candidates, who met HDK at MLA S.R. Mahesh's office, where the former CM addressed a press meet, appealed him to take up their cause with the Government. After hearing the aggrieved candidates, Kumaraswamy is said to have assured them that he would raise the issue after the CID which is conducting the probe into the recruitment scam, completes investigation and submits a report to the Government.

Tara, a resident of Jyotinagar in the city and a PSI aspirant, told Star of Mysore that she had prepared for four years for the exam and it was not correct on the part of the Government to order a re-exam for everyone, following the unearthing of the scam.

Pointing out that over 50,000 candidates had written the exam, she said that a majority of the honest candidates are deeply depressed with the Government's decision to hold a re-exam. Wanting the Govt. to select candidates based on honesty and merit, instead of holding a re-exam, Tara also urged the Govt. to announce a fresh list of honest and deserving candidates who had not resorted to any malpractice or irregularities.

Governor gives assent to Anti-Conversion Bill

Bengaluru, May 18- Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot on Tuesday gave his consent to ordinance on Anti-Conversion Bill passed in Karnataka Assembly. Despite protests, the State Government took the ordinance route in order to give effect to the law against religious conversions.

The Karnataka Protection of Right to Freedom of Religion Bill was tabled and passed by the BJP-led Government in the State in December last year.

The Anti-Conversion Bill is aimed at preventing conversion by means of 'allurement, coercion, force, fraudulent means', and also 'mass conversion.' According to the Government, these instances cause disturbance of 'public order' in the State.

The Bill proposes imprisonment of three to five years with a fine of Rs. 25,000 for 'forced' conversion. The Bill also states that converting a minor, woman or an SC/ST person will attract a jail term of three to 10 years, with a Rs. 50,000 fine. Mass conversions will attract three to 10 years of jail, with a fine of up to Rs. 1 lakh.

'Vishwashanti Padayatra' concludes

MLA S.A. Ramdas receives Ganapathy Ashram Junior Seer at Kurubarahalli Circle

Mysuru, May 18 (MTY&TRR)- The 'Vishwashanti Padayatra' of Sri Ganapathy Sachchidananda Ashram Junior Pontiff Sri Datta Vijayananda Theertha Swamiji, which started from Mekedatu six days ago as a prelude to the ten-day 80th birthday celebrations of Sri Ganapathy Sachchidananda Swamiji (May 22 to 31), today entered Mysuru city.

On his arrival, the Junior Swamiji was garlanded and welcomed by MLA S.A. Ramdas, local Corporators and devotees at Sri Sangolli Rayanna Circle (Kurubarahalli Circle).

Speaking on the occasion, Ramdas said: "The fact that the Senior Swamiji has completed 80 years is a matter of celebration not just to Mysuru but to the entire nation. By establishing Ashrams in 70 countries across the world, the Swamiji has rendered yeomen service in spreading Sanatana Dharma. In this connection, the 80 birthday of the Swamiji has generated a lot of enthusiasm among all of us and we intend to develop a big Circle at a cost of Rs. 1.5 crore to commemorate the event. CM Basavaraj Bommai and District Minister S.T. Somashekar will participate in the event."

Speaking on the occasion, Junior Seer Sri Datta Vijayananda Theertha Swamiji said that since this is 'Shubhakrutunama Samvatsara' and Senior Swamiji is completing 80 years, we took a padayatra from his birthplace Mekedatu to Mysuru praying for world peace. "We have brought holy Cauvery water from Sri Ganapathy Swamiji's birth place. Apart from the 80th birthday of the Senior Seer, intention of the padayatra was to pray for world peace, protection of cows, women and children welfare, protection of environment, financial assistance for Veda Patashalas which are in need of money, assistance to poor farmers and timely rain. We can see examples of Seers taking out special padayatra to seek relief from natural disasters and we have carried out this padayatra in this backdrop. We hope the benefits of this padayatra will spread to the entire world," added the Junior Swamiji.

Voicing concerns about the declining standards of health among citizens, Sri Datta Vijayananda Theertha Swamiji exhorted people to walk for 40 minutes daily to maintain good health and said this is one of the intentions of the padayatra.

"Our padayatra was welcomed by Civic Workers in Malavalli and later we went on the Brahmin Streets and then to the temple of Sri Rama along with Civic Workers and Brahmins thereby giving a good message to the people," he concluded.

Former MLA M.K. Somashekar joined the padayatra along with his supporters en route to Sri Ganapathy Sachchidananda Ashram. Corporator K.J. Ramesh, KR Bank Vice-President Basavaraju, Cable Mahesh, District Brahmana Mahasabha President T.D. Prakash and hundreds of devotees too accompanied the padayatra to the Ashram.

KSNDMC predicts early monsoon

Mysuru receives more pre-monsoon showers than Kodagu district

K.R. Nagar records 231 mm, Kodagu 49.12 mm rainfall last night

A Hitachi machine submerged in rain water at Arakere.

Fire personnel on rescue operation at Hunsur.

Standing crops destroyed by rains at Hunsur.

Kushalnagar, May 18 (Akshay, Hanagod Mahesh &KS)- The Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre (KSNDMC) has predicted early monsoon at least a week before the earlier predicted monsoon.

South West Monsoon onset over Kerala is likely to take place around May 27 with a model error of plus or minus four days and will then enter Karnataka as per India Meteorological Department (IMD).

Meanwhile, pre-monsoon showers, which is lashing across the State since a couple of days, has caused miseries. Usually, Kodagu received more rainfall but this time, Mysuru has recorded more rainfall (236.1 mm).

Yesterday night, Gandanahalli in K.R. Nagar has recorded 231 mm rainfall while Thattekere in Hunsur has recorded 141 mm rainfall. The rainfall recording is taken from May 17 at 8.30 am to May 18 at 8.30 am. Following heavy rains, crops such as tomato and chilli are submerged in rainwater causing huge losses to farmers. Kodagu has recorded 49.12 mm rainfall last night.

Meanwhile, the National Highway, connecting Mysuru and Hassan via K.R. Nagar and Holenarasipur, has been partially cut off. At Arakere, National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) had taken up bridge construction works and had deployed a Hitachi machine to dig a deep and large pit for the foundation. The machine, which began digging the pit in the morning, continued its work till 6.30 pm and stopped the work, with the earth excavating machine left inside the pit to continue the digging process the next day. But due to heavy downpour, rain water got collected inside the pit submerging the machine. A pipeline laid by the BSNL across the bridge, has been washed away.

As per the recordings from 8.30 am of May 16 to 8.30 am of May 17, T. Doddapura of T. Narasipur taluk in Mysuru has received highest rainfall of 151.5 mm.

Hunsur: Continuous rain since last night till today morning, has not only disrupted normal life by flooding residential areas, but has also caused huge losses to farmers, whose crops have been submerged in rain water.

Manjunatha Layout in Hunsur town has been flooded and the area resembled a lake. Fire and Emergency Services personnel, who swung into action, rescued a few residents from the houses. Household articles including electronic gadgets such as TVs, fridges, washing machines etc. worth lakhs of rupees have been destroyed as rain water flooded the houses.

Hairige Lake near Honnenahalli on Hanagod-Hunsur Main Road breached following which the road was closed for traffic. The newly laid road connecting Hanagod to Veeranahosahalli via Erataiahnakoppal has been washed away and Lakshmanatheertha River is flowing full force.

Farmers who had grown ginger, maize and cotton are a worried lot as rain water has submerged the crops causing huge loss to them. As many lakes overflowed, farmers who had taken up fisheries also suffered losses as fishes came out through overflowing water and people were seen catching fish in the overflowing waters.

While Thattekere in Hunsur taluk recorded 141 mm rainfall, Govindanahalli recorded 121 mm and Hunsur town has recorded 120 mm rainfall.

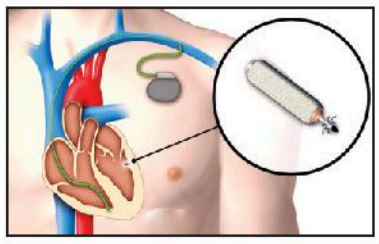
Leadless Pacemaker

A ground-breaking technology used at Narayana Multispeciality Hospital



Dr. P. Srinivas, MD, DNB, DM
Consultant - Cardiology (Adult)

What is a pacemaker? A pacemaker is a device that sends small electrical impulses to the heart muscle to maintain a suitable heart rate and is used to treat patients with a condition known as bradyarrhythmias (slow heart rates or defective electrical conduction) that cause symptoms.

Brief history: A 78-year-old gentleman presented to Narayana Multispeciality Hospital, Mysuru, with episodes of presyncope (near loss of consciousness) for 2 weeks. His ECG showed evidence of TachyBrady syndrome (a combination of abnormal fast and slow heart rates, both requiring treatment). Given his advanced age and possible Atrial fibrillation (documented later), he was advised a single chamber pacemaker (right ventricular) by a Senior Interventional Cardiologist Dr. P. Srinivas.

In consideration of his comorbidities, an innovative and ground-breaking technology called 'Leadless pacemaker implantation' was offered. The patient underwent successful leadless pacemaker implantation without any complication and was discharged in a couple of days.

What are the types of pacemakers available and what are the risks involved?

Conventional pacemakers require creating a surgical pocket in the upper part of the chest and entail procedural complications like lung injury, pocket collections by blood or infection and require connecting leads to a pulse generator placed under the skin. It can cause considerable pain, risks injury to nearby arteries or lung tissue and can have a negative cosmetic appeal for few; generally, a lump is seen and felt under the skin at the site of the pacemaker. The leads (thin cables connecting the pulse generator to heart muscle) are themselves subject to complications like insulation failure, compression, dislodgement and perforation. Patients are also required to limit their arm movements (on the side of the pacemaker) for the initial few weeks.

Who is a candidate for a leadless pacemaker?

Not everyone is a candidate for a leadless pacemaker. Currently, the device is available only for patients with symptomatic bradycardia who need a single chamber (the lower heart chamber) pacing only. Technology has advanced now to include mechanical sensing of the upper heart chamber as well, another major advantage being all current leadless pacemakers are MRI compatible.

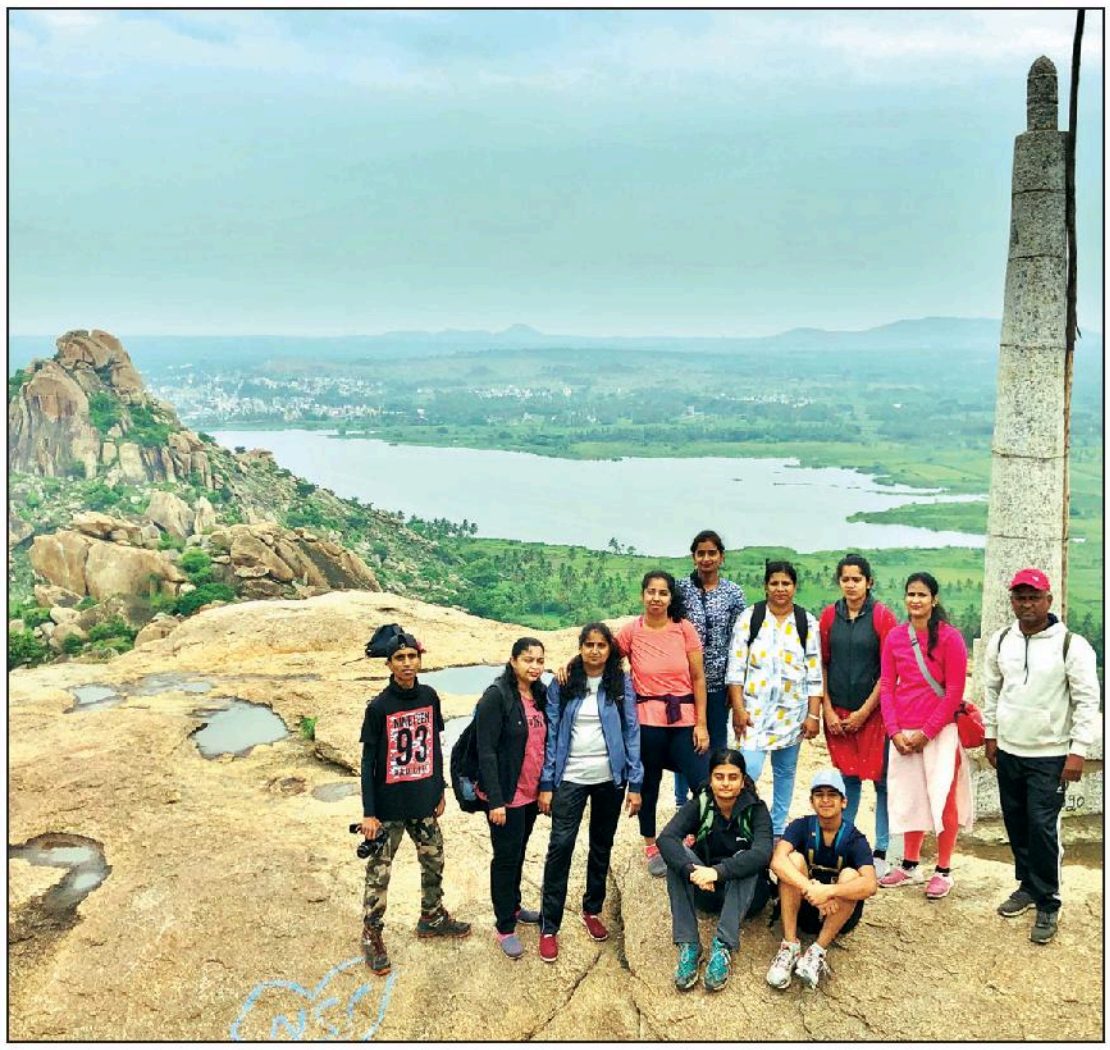
What is a leadless pacemaker and what are its advantages?

A leadless pacemaker is a small self-contained device that is inserted directly into the lower chamber of the heart. It is 90% smaller than a conventional pacemaker and contains all the components (generator and electrical system) of a regular pacemaker housed in a small capsule.

It is deployed by a simple procedure through the groin via a long tube called a catheter and does not require the creation of any pocket or incision in the chest nor any attachment to leads. It is indeed a medical marvel with a near painless experience for the patient eliminating nearly all the possible complications associated with a regular pacemaker and also having a cosmetic appeal. The patient can be mobilised the same day and may even be discharged home the very next day.

The Future: The future is exciting and promising as well, with new technology being developed in the field of pacing and might eventually lead to expanded pacing indications. It is a boon for patients requiring pacemaker therapy, provided the right clinical indication and appropriate patient selection protocols are followed.

District Hospital nurses take to trekking on Nurses Day



Nurses of the District Hospital, Mysuru and others at Bhimana Honke atop Kunti Betta in Pandavapura.

Mysuru, May 18- About seven nurses from the District Hospital participated in a day trek to Kunti Betta organised by the Tiger Adventure Foundation (TAF) on the occasion of the International Nurses Day on May 12 — it was this day Florence Nightingale was born and she nursed the wounds of the soldiers in the war-torn area in Crimean War.

Speaking on the occasion, DSD Solanki, an ardent adventure enthusiast, said "Though I have trekked with so many people from the cross section of society, this was the first time where the nursing community was being exposed to such adventure programmes."

The nurses were given an orientation on the dos and don'ts about the trek, a brief history about the Kunti Betta or French Rocks and the mythological story behind this place.

A warm up session was conducted by Sharath, a fitness enthusiast and the instructor at the TAF, who usually trains the trekkers of the Foundation since 2019 and he was ably assisted by Riya Solanki, an adventure enthusiast of Mysuru city and Varun Radhakrishna, a horse riding enthusiast of Mysuru city.

The programme was coordinated by Dr. Nayaz Pasha, RMO, District Hospital, Mysuru and DSD Solanki, the Chairman of TAF.

The nurses, who participated in the trekking programme, were B.B. Bhavani, H.S. Jalajakshi, M.M. Roopa, Hajira, G.G. Pavithra, J. Sharmila and B.R. Mahalakshmi.

Nurses share their experiences

"Heavy downpour in the night didn't kill the enthusiasm of the trekking. I was anxious to trek and imagined myself of wearing a rucksack. But when I went through it, I realised how much planning and effort it takes to trek in the wilderness," says Jalakshi, a Nurse.

"It was 5.30 am and the bus arrives at the District Hospital, Metagalli, Mysuru. Though we were nine of us for the trek to Kunti Betta in Pandavapura, two of them had to be dropped due to time constraint as they did not turn up for the event in time. Nevertheless, the man at the helm of the affairs never considered anybody important who doesn't respect time," says Bhavani, a Senior Nurse.

"Though our duties are monotonous and specially during the COVID-19, people have come forward with various gestures, but a programme like this is a special occasion to cherish as none of us ever thought in the wildest dream that one day we will be trekking in wilderness, that too on International Nurses Day," says Sharmila, a Staff Nurse at the Hospital.

Sharing his experience, A. Anil Kumar, former Chairman of TAF, who was leading this trek, said, "Though I have seen the devotion of nurses serving the mankind in hospitals and at Nursing Homes, never thought that one day they will be trekking with me. It was a great honour for me to lead them to the Kunti Betta."

WORD OF THE DAY

Turpitude

Pronunciation: TER-puh-tood.
Meaning: Turpitude refers to inherent lack of integrity or morality, or to an evil or immoral act. It is frequently used in legal contexts in the phrase "moral turpitude."
Origin: Turpitude comes from Latin turpis, meaning "vile" or "base." The word is often heard in the phrase "moral turpitude," an expression used in law to designate an act or behaviour that gravely violates the sentiment or accepted standard of the community. A criminal offense that involves moral turpitude is considered wrong or evil by moral standards, in addition to being the violation of a statute.
Example: "Moral turpitude is defined at the local level, but common crimes include murder, ... robbery, burglary, drugged driving, drunk driving with a suspended license, voluntary manslaughter...." — David J. Bier

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Take a back seat

Meaning: To take a subordinate or reclusive position.
Origin: This phrase has a straightforward and literal derivation. It alludes simply to the back seats, of a coach, a theatre, a gaming table etc., being less prominent than the others. It originated in the USA in the mid 19th century. As we might expect, the earliest uses of the phrase merely refer to people sitting at the back. An early example from The Washingtonian, July 1845 seems to be moving part of the way from a literal to a figurative sense: He took a seat at the [poker] table, and they dealt him a hand. It wasn't long before... he was broke, and compelled to take a "back seat." The use there of back seat in quotation marks suggests that the expression had a meaning beyond the position of the seat. The context of the citation suggests that those who weren't in a position to make a bet sat at the back. The first use that one can find of an unambiguously figurative use of the phrase, that is, one where no actual seat is occupied, comes from The Daily Wisconsin Patriot, May 1859: "The despised foreign born slave - the much hated and often cursed 'Irish,' 'Dutch' and 'Norwegians,' must take a back seat in the exercise of all the foregoing announced privileges [voting, jury duty etc.] - no man of foreign birth can vote until two years after he shall have received his full papers."

QUOTE BOX

When truth takes a backseat to ego and politics, trust is lost.

—Patrick Lencioni
